

Sally's Story: Jane and the giant. (p.96-97)

Narrator	- Jane can see a big house. It has got lots of doors and windows. She can hear a noise.
Giant	- Hey, ho, hi, humming. I'm a giant. I am coming.
Narrator	- Jane is in the living room. She is hiding under a table. She can hear the giant.
Giant	- Micky, mocky, mucky, mig. I'm a giant. I am big.
Narrator	- Jane is in the bathroom now. She is hiding in the shower. She can hear the giant.
Giant	- Flippy, floppy, flappy, flong! I'm a giant. I am strong.
Narrator	- Jane is in the kitchen. She is hiding in the cupboard. He can hear the giant.
Giant	- Wiz, woz, woodle, weet! I'm a giant. I've got big feet.
Narrator	- Jane is in the bedroom now. She is hiding in the bed. She can hear the giant.
Giant	- Bing, bang, bong, begs! I'm a giant. I've got long legs.
Jane	- He's got a big head, long arms, and big feet!
Giant	I can hear a girl!
Narrator	- Jane has got a good idea. She is standing on the bed.
Jane	- Apples, jelly, cakes and toast! Look at me. I'm a ghost! Goodnight, giant. Sweet dreams!